

Marwa Fadol

Psychologist
Calgary, Alberta

Marwa is a Registered Psychologist in Alberta, holding a Master's degree in Counselling Psychology from the University of Victoria.

She works as a Mental Health Therapist at the School Based Mental Health Program with Alberta Health Services, providing therapeutic services to children and youth ages 6 – 18. Marwa also consults with school professionals around areas of mental health in the school setting. In her private practice she works with families around various issues including anxiety, depression, trauma, grief and family relationships.

In addition, Marwa consults with a variety of professionals and organizations around the topic of cultural diversity, specifically around working with immigrant and refugee families, and with Muslim families. As a clinician she believes that people are the experts in their own lives and have within them the strength and the capacity to enact change.

Marwa approaches her work through an attachment and developmental lens, and sees that her role as a therapist is to help empower people to write their own life stories, to explore their own values and beliefs about how the world works, and to develop authentic fulfilling relationships. As a trainer she brings warmth and humour and draws on her varied experiences to make for an engaging, relevant training experience.
